

AARON LAZAR

... the most suitably vigorous performance comes from actor ...
 Aaron Lazar, who brings a troop-rallying tenor to Enjolras.
 – Ben Brantley, the New York Times

Aaron Lazar joins Neil Patrick Harris (How I Met Your Mother), John Cryer (Two and a Half Men), Patti LuPone (Gypsy), Anika Noni Rose (Dreamgirls), Christina Hendricks (Mad Men) among others in a new concert version of Stephen Sondheim's Company with the New York Philharmonic.

This past year Mr. Lazar starred in Stephen Sondheim's Broadway revival of A Little Night Music opposite Catherine Zeta-Jones and Angela Lansbury. Other Broadway credits include: Impressionism, A Tale of Two Cities, the revival of Les Misérables (Drama Desk Nomination), A Light in the Piazza, Oklahoma, and Phantom of the Opera.

Lazar co-starred with Reba McEntire and Brian Stokes Mitchell in the Hollywood Bowl production of South Pacific. As a soloist, he has worked with the New York Pops at Carnegie Hall, the Boston Pops conducted by Keith Lockhart, the National Symphony Orchestra helmed by Marvin Hamlisch, and Peter Nero and the Philly Pops. He also sang the role of Adam/Silva with the Jerusalem Philharmonic in a televised concert of the Broadway-bound musical Imagine This. TV credits include: "White Collar," "Ugly Betty," "New Amsterdam," "The Notorious Betty Paige," "All My Children" (recurring), and a PBS "Live from Lincoln Center" telecast.
